Cagers Engage Unbeaten Seton Hall On Monday

by Maurice Mackey

Loyola College, after playing three conference games, returns to the task of attempting to whip two cage giants of the East, La Salle College and Seton Hall College, in home games tonight and Monday night. These two teams defeated Loyola by sizeable scores early in December, but Evergreen fans hope that playing on the home court will help make the winning difference.

La Salle defeated the Greyhounds by the lop-sided score of 71-46, after holding a slim half-time margin of 29-24. The second half of that December game became a rout as an injury-riddled Loyola team was powerless to stop La Salle Coach Charley McGlone's fast-moving squad.

Pirates Resume Basketball

The Seton Hall Pirates, resuming war-time suspended basketball, have again established themselves as one of the top cage teams in the East. With victories over such teams as La Salle, George Washington, Princeton and Providence College, the Pirates were recently rated third among Eastern cage teams.

Loyola has played Seton Hall four times since 1927. Closest the Greyhounds ever came to victory was in the 1929 game when they lost by a lone point: 38-37.

Galloway Still Injured

Loyola's chances of taking any of these games hinge on injuries and the presence of any great defense. (Continued on page 6, col. 1)

Father Sullivan Named Dean

The Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., was appointed Dean of Studies on January 21. He replaces the Rev. Joseph A. d'Invilliers, S. J.

Fr. Sullivan will continue as director of the Veterans Guidance Center and will teach one of his Psychology classes; the other will be taught by Mr. William Doyle, A. B. summa cum laude, '39, a member of the Veterans Center.

Fr. d'Invilliers served during most of the war years as Dean, having replaced the Rev. Lawrence C. Gorman, S. J., in December, 1942. He will remain at Loyola as a professor of Philosophy and Religion.

IRC's Discuss Postwar Trade

Delegates from at least four other colleges in Maryland are expected to attend the second regional conference of International Relations Clubs next Sunday, February 2. The conference will be held at Loyola, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The proposed International Trade Organization of the United Nations will be the topic for discussion.

Thomas Lalley will address the students at the general session which opens the conference. The delegates will then attend one of the two discussion panels. The first of these panels will consider the structure of the proposed ITO and possible changes in the constitution. The other panel will analyze the objectives of the ITO and the possibility of their realization.

Bulldozers Now Clearing Ground For Three Temporary Buildings

A bulldozer leveling the ground preparatory to the erection of the new buildings. For the past two weeks, a construction gang has been felling trees and clearing the ground for the buildings which should be erected before the beginning of the May term. Photo by Alderman.

Approximately 190 new students began classes at Loyola on January 21. Of these, 150 are members of the January Freshman Class which will graduate in January, 1950. The majority of the remainder are former students who are resuming their studies after service in the armed forces.

Bulldozers began felling trees last week in the area next to the Garrett Estate to prepare for the erection of the temporary buildings recently allocated to Loyola under the Mead Act for Veteran's Educational Facilities. The buildings are expected to be ready for occupancy by the latter part of April. They will contain five classrooms with a 50 student capacity each in addition to eight offices for members of the faculty.

Faculty Changes Announced

Five instructors have been added to the College Faculty and every professor has increased his number of class hours. The Rev. John T. Heenan, S. J., who taught Special Ethics at Loyola prior to 1943, has returned to become professor of Junior Theology.

The Rev. Regis B. Winslow, S. J., who has been pursuing graduate studies at Johns Hopkins University, will teach Mathematics. Among the five new instructors added to the Faculty, three are graduates of Loyola. These are Rene J. Gunning, '42, William A. Doyle, '39, and George J. Miller, '42.

Classes In Late Afternoon

Several classes in Modern Languages for the Freshman Class have been scheduled to begin at 3:20 p. m. Chemistry laboratories for the freshmen will be held exclusively in the morning so as not to interfere with the upper class laboratories.

The Office of the Dean reports that 68 members of the Freshman Class are enrolled in the Business Administration Course, 62 are taking the Science Course, 18 are working for a Bachelor of Philosophy degree and six are enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts Course.

Veterans Plan Freshman Party

Plans are now being made for a stag party for the veterans in the new Freshman Class. John J. Sweeney, Jr., president of the Veterans Club, announced that the party would be on some Sunday in February, probably the 23rd.

Officers of the club have been attending a series of conferences at the University of Baltimore in an effort to set up an organization which will embrace all collegiate veterans clubs in Maryland.

Main purpose of the proposed organization will be to provide united action in securing solutions of any difficulties which may prevent or delay benefits to veterans. A secondary purpose will be an effort to secure additional benefits for married veterans.

Maisel Plays For Cotillion

The five member colleges of the Baltimore Sodality Union will sponsor their third annual dance on Friday night, February 14, at the Maryland Yacht Club. Decorations for this "Cupid's Cotillion" will feature a marine theme.

Bill Maisel's orchestra, with vocalist Jane McMasters, will be featured. Refreshments will be sold and the dance will last from nine until one. Admission is by invitation only.

Edward C. Barrett is the general chairman of the dance. Representatives, from whom invitations may be secured, are: Gloria Raffo and Clare Maynes, Notre Dame; Peter Packard and David Meggison, Hopkins; Janet Hohman and Vivi Stubblings, Mt. St. Agnes; Rosalind Anderson, Goucher; and Richard Rebert and Frank Janowiak, Loyola.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to sponsor future projects of the Union.

Alumni Schedule Annual Banquet

The annual banquet of the Loyola College Alumni Association will be held in the ballroom of the Emerson Hotel on February 10. Edward Stevenson, '39, will act as toastmaster.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be the Hon. Clare G. E. Fenerty, Judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. Judge Fenerty is a graduate of St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia. He received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Loyola College in June, 1936, while he was a member of the 74th Congress.

Opposed Religious Persecution

As a member of Congress, Judge Fenerty was the leader in the fight to stop religious persecution in Mexico and, as early as 1935, introduced bills to prevent reciprocal trade agreements with any nation indulging in racial or religious persecution.

As was the case at the last Alumni Banquet, the members of the Senior Class have been invited to attend. Special tables have been reserved for them.

George J. Miller, '42, is chairman of the banquet committee. Tickets are now on sale at $4.00 a plate.

Large Attendance Expected

Jerome J. Egan, '32, president of the Alumni Association, reports that attendance at the banquet will break all previous records for alumni gatherings. At the first meeting of the banquet committee it was decided that the ballroom of the Emerson is one of the few banquet halls in Baltimore large enough to accommodate the number of Loyola graduates expected to attend.

Besides Judge Fenerty, the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., and the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S. J., moderator of the Alumni Association, will speak.

Burke Appointed Editor At Greyhound Banquet

Both Plunkett and Burke are former Editors of the paper. Burke returned to school from the Navy in September. Plunkett, who was stationed in Japan, was discharged from the Army in December.

Maurice F. Mackey is the new Sports Editor, succeeding F. Timothy Parr, Jr.

Further staff changes were announced at the banquet by Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., moderator. Francis X. Gallagher is News Editor and James Bowen, Copy Editor. John Krager and William Grill will continue as Exchange Editor and Office Manager respectively.

Calvert Kenning and James Brady have assumed their duties as Business Manager and Advertising Director. Frank Janowiak and Frank Rackensperger will direct the Circulation Staff. Jack Phillips is Photographic Editor.

Greyhound pins, given to retiring members of the staff whose work was considered outstanding, were awarded to Lalley, retiring Editor, Parr, Sports Editor, Gus A. Crenson, Feature Editor, Albert Tiedemann, Photography Editor, John T. Arthur, Circulation Manager, Robert Reichel, Business Manager, and Mannes Greenberg.

Burke and his staff will continue in office until January, 1948, when a new staff will be appointed. The retiring Seniors will continue in an advisory capacity.

Mrs. Ada Blay Wins $1200 Emerald Ring

The $1200 emerald and diamond ring, designed by Michael Caplan, was won in the drawing by Mrs. Ada Blay, 5312 Barbara Avenue, Hamilton. This drawing, for the benefit of the Chapel Fund, was held between halves of the Loyola-Mount Saint Mary's basketball game, January 8.

The Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S. J., selected the winning ticket. Fr. Didusch was given the precious stones by Miss Agnes Boggs for use in the Chapel campaign.

Total proceeds for the Chapel Fund amounted to almost $2400. Over $2000 of this amount was raised by the student body.

The Opposite Page

On the opposite page we have printed as many pictures of the student presidents of the extra-curricular activities on the campus as space would permit. We have also included a message from these activity leaders. The reasons for this special feature should not be too obscure.

First, we wished to acquaint the new Freshmen, and perhaps many of the upper-classmen, with their representatives on the the Student Council. Second, we wished to re-explain the purpose of these clubs not only for the incoming class but also for those upperclassmen who so far have neglected, for good reasons or not, to take any interest in such campus activities.

We had intended to show the comparative enrollments of the various activities by listing their membership in one of the pre-war years, one of the war years and the present time. This project had to be abandoned for lack of accessible records for most of the societies. But let us take one of the campus activities, the International Relations Club, and compare its enrollments.

In 1941, before the attack on Pearl Harbor, the IRC had thirty fairly active members from a total student enrollment of 400. In 1944, when the student body was less than 100, the Club had twelve active members. Today, when we have 600 students who have been here for at least five months, the IRC has an active membership of less than fifteen. Certainly the slight increase in membership is in no way proportionate to the increase in the enrollment of the school. The membership in other activities has followed the same general course.

From this casual survey, it would seem that the extra-curricular activities are not receiving the support of the student body which they deserve. It would do no good to reiterate the advantages of membership in anyone of the activities on the campus. Nor would an appeal for increased membership be appropriate. We have merely attempted to bring the condition of the extra-curricular activities to your attention.

State of the Union

The United States has often been accused of not knowing why it fought the last war and still less what it expected to gain by winning it. The truth in this accusation forced Secretary Byrnes to fashion almost single-handedly a makeshift foreign policy.

The difficulty was that Byrnes, as he attempted to formulate American policy, also had to combat the spreading influence of Russia who alone seemed to know what she wanted and how she proposed to get it. Byrnes was hampered also by the economic discontent at home and the possibility that a Republican congress would be elected and nullify all his efforts.

But the Republicans who are now in control of the Senate and House of Representatives have managed to conduct themselves with a dignity and foresight which are not common to most Congresses. In direct contrast to the sniping tactics which the Democrats employed to discredit Herbert Hoover during the last two years of his term, the Republicans seem willing to cooperate with all sensible Democratic legislation.

It was this spirit of sensible compromise which lessened the shock of Secretary Byrnes' sudden resignation. General Marshall may reasonably expect the support of Congress in his endeavors, particularly when he has the support of men like Senator Vandenberg.

At home, the Taft forces have won temporary control of the Senate and the bills which are passed will, if anything, attempt to regulate the tremendous power of the labor unions.

All in all, 1947 is the most encouraging year for America of the last ten. Perhaps the moral, mental and political fog in which we blundered during 1946 is beginning to lift. Now, if at all, is the time for optimism.

Books On Review

by Gus A. Crenson

B. F.'s Daughter—John Marquand

John Marquand's fourth novel on the American upper classes and the civilization they have built in the culture centers of the East is as polished and workmanlike as its predecessors—The Late George Apley, H. M. Pulham, Esq., and So Little Time. As such it demonstrates again the author's facility for giving life to Brooks Brothers suits and Lanvin gowns. And Mr. Marquand's characters do live; although satires, they never become caricatures. There is no slashing or splashing in their delineation. Each sketch is done with careful, refined strokes and wealth of telling detail. Their thoughts, their rituals, their heartaches and their tentative approaches to joy are told without raising the narrator's voice. These are genteel people and Mr. Marquand is a genteel satirist.

The story which is set in 1943 in wartime Washington and New York describes the dissolution of the marriage of Polly Fulton, a tycoon's daughter, and Tom Brett, ex-liberal college professor, and at the time of the story, even more liberal New Deal Brain Trust. Polly married the untidy young liberal in revolt against her father's dominance and her environment—or at least that part of her environment which she felt restrictive. In doing so she broke her engagement to the very correct Bob Tasmin, the familiar Marquand brand of Groton graduate and Harvard lawyer, who was her father's choice.

In twelve years of marriage, her dominance and her money have in turn forced her husband into passive revolt.

Mr. Marquand employs the flashback technique in telling his story, and this method is not so effective here as straight chronological narration. It is as disappointing as yesterday's Cream of Wheat, at least to one who clutches still to a remnant of conventional sentiment, to read of newly married bliss when we have already witnessed the misunderstanding and indifference which have replaced that bliss.

The author has offered no solution for his heroine and no solution for the class she represents—the class which controls our economy and influences our industrial and political philosophy, but which has embraced materialism at the cost of all spiritual values.

Letters To The Greyhound

Chess Club

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND
Dear Tom:

Last year, a letter appeared on one of the bulletin boards here at school. This letter contained a challenge to a chess match from the U. S. Naval Academy. We would not have been true Loyolans if we had not taken up this challenge. All those who were interested and knew how to play gathered together and so the Loyola College Chess Club was founded.

After a few games were played, a team was chosen and on Sunday afternoon, May 11, 1946, seven men journeyed to Annapolis. They returned home defeated but determined to return there this year and gain revenge. With this spirit the Chess Club was born and with this spirit it will carry on.

At first many students laughed at the idea of playing chess. "Can I be the team doctor?" "Don't forget to take along the tape and band-aids?" "Don't you think you'd better run around the track a few times to get in condition for the games?" This was our sendoff to Annapolis. Soon, however, these same ones who laughed loudest were coming around to learn how to play and to find out just what there was to the game of chess.

What has chess got? Basically, chess is founded on that very thing in which every red-blooded American man delights—a fight, not a physical fight but a battle of wits. Everyone gets a kick when they outwit or play a little trick on someone and this is the essence of chess. During the past war, many of you planned what you would have done if you were General Eisenhower. In chess, you are the general. Every move is up to you and you must map the strategy to defeat your enemy. You have one advantage over a general in war, however, for you and your enemy begin on exactly even terms and at all times you know the strength and position of his forces. It is only through outsmarting him that you can come out on top. There is indeed a great thrill in winning a close, suspense-packed game, whose outcome hinges on a single move.

This year, the Chess Club is planning a busy season. We are now playing games through the mail with Fordham University and St. Peter's College of Jersey City. We hope to contact other schools in the same manner. Local matches will also be played.

If you know how to play chess at all, lend the Chess Club your support and help it grow. Twenty years from now, when the reputation of the Loyola Chess Club is known throughout the State of Maryland, you can look back with pride upon the fact that you were one of those who helped guide the club through its youth and are thus responsible for its present and future prestige.

Sincerely,
Tom Comber

ND Junior Prom

GREYHOUND Editors,
Gentlemen:

The Junior Class of Notre Dame is having its annual Junior Promenade on February 8, 1947, in L. Clerc Hall at Notre Dame.

Our theme is "In an Eighteenth Century Drawing Room" and we are having Charlie Vincent's orchestra. The time is nine to twelve p. m.

Chairmen of Committees are as follows:

Patrons: Kay Zimmer
Favors: Mary Ann Collins
Program: Betty Rodie
Refreshments: Joan Burke
Decorations: Rosemary Price
Tickets: Loretta Callis and Kitt Turk

Publicity: Rose Marie Goodhue
We would greatly appreciate any publicity that you give us.

Yours truly,
Rose Marie Goodhue
Publicity Chairman

Mrs. Tippet

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND
Dear Tom:

Thanks for the copy of THE GREYHOUND. I surely enjoyed reading all the doings. Tom, I often think of the get togethers that we held in the Cafe or the Oak Room and that is putting it mildly.

I notice you have the Watchdog column back. I enjoy reading very much. You asked about my daughter, Dorothy. Well, yes, she is out there in Astoria. Wilderness she calls it, but I guess you get used to anything if you stay long enough.

Yes, I have all the rooms rented to three very nice people and keep busy. It was nice to see that you have not forgotten me and hope you enjoyed the holidays.

With kindest regards,
Louise Tippet

A Guide To Extra-Curricular Activities

International Relations

Gus A. Crenson

"Meetings are held Thursdays at 8:15 in room 200. Members of the new Freshman class are invited to hear and participate in discussions of vital foreign affairs."

"One of the most important events scheduled for the second term is the meeting of the Model United Nations' Assembly at Swarthmore college, Pennsylvania, during the Easter vacation."

Mathematics Club

Mannes F. Greenberg

"Weekly lectures followed by informal discussions comprise the major portion of the meetings of the Mathematics Club. Last Tuesday's meeting was featured by a lecture on 'Two Digit Figures.'"

"New students are invited to attend the Tuesday afternoon meetings and become members of this organization."

Chemistry Club

F. Markoe Dugan

"Continuing its policy of showing films produced by the Encyclopedia Britannica, the Chemistry Club started the new term by showing the two films 'The Building of a Tire' and 'Freedom Rides On Rubber.'"

"The purpose of these movies is to show interesting laboratory experiments."

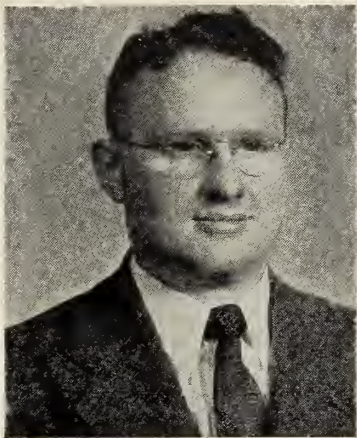

Listed below are the twelve major extra-curricular activities in the school and a statement from and picture of their acting heads. THE GREYHOUND hopes, as is explained in the editorial on the opposite page, that both freshmen and upperclassmen will be able to recognize these men who comprise the Student Council and through whom entry may be made easily into the various activities.

Omitted from this survey are the Mendel Club, Ray Clemmens, president, which is restricted to students in the Biology classes; the Social Science Club, Frank Odenheimer, president, restricted to members of Fr. Ayd's Sociology class; the Architecture Academy, Richard C. Kemp, president, open to all students and reorganized this year; and the Chess Club, Thomas Comber, president, also open to all students. These clubs were omitted only because of lack of space.

Other members of the Student Council who are not shown are: Leon J. Greenbaum, president of the Athletic Association; John G. Arthur, John J. Enoch, Albert G. Fitzgerald and James E. Bowen, class presidents, and Peter J. Malloy, editor of THE EVERGREEN.

Senior Sodality

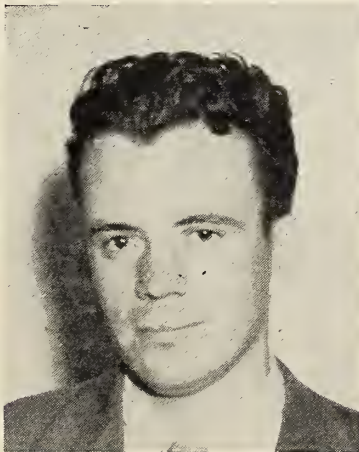

Edward C. Barrett

"The Senior Sodality meets every Wednesday at 12:50. The meetings alternate between a business meeting, held in Room 201, and a chapel meeting, at which time the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin is recited and a short religious instruction given."

"It is the mark of a good Loyola man that he will give twenty-five minutes of his time each week to this most important of all activities. Our projects give opportunity for both spiritual and intellectual advancement. Our present active membership represents a very small percentage of the student body."

"One of the principal undertakings of our organization at present is the co-sponsoring of a drive with the Junior Sodality to raise $500 for the razed Chinese Mission at Sien-shien. Bishop Tchao made a request for similar drives in 25 other Jesuit Colleges throughout the United States."

Bellarmino Debating

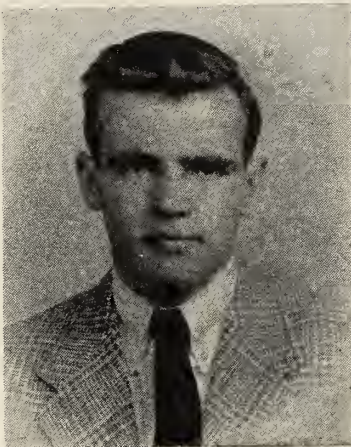

Dudley Shoemaker

"Members of the new Freshman class are urged to attend our weekly meetings at 3:30 in room 103. Second semester activity in the Society will be widespread and strenuous."

"Members acquire experience prior to engaging in intercollegiate contests in our weekly intrasociety debates. The 1947 National Collegiate Debating Topic discusses Labor-Management relationships."

Veterans' Club

John J. Sweeney

"The Veterans' Club is currently engaged in readying final plans for the stag smoker which will be held at Evergreen in the early part of February."

"Those members of the new Freshman Class who have served in the Armed Forces are urged to attend. They are also invited to attend the weekly meetings of the Club in order that they become acquainted with the aims of the Club."

"It is the wish of the officers of our group that two men be chosen to represent each of the groups of the Freshman Class and that one representative be chosen from each of the upper classes in order that we may have a better cross-section of the student body on our executive board."

Alpha Sigma Nu

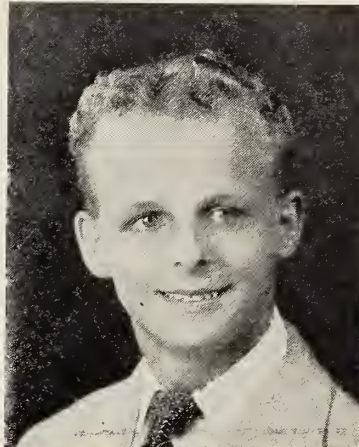

William Cahill

"Open to students exhibiting exceptional scholarship, loyalty and interest in extra-curricular work, the National Jesuit Honor Fraternity, will hold induction of new members this Spring."

"The members of ASN are at present engaged in a campaign to collect books for the ravaged Jesuit Mission of Our Lady of Carmel in the Philippines. The urgent plea was especially for high school texts, but all types of books, whether religious, scientific, historical or fictional, are needed."

Junior Sodality

Francis Janowick

"Conflicting schedules make it advisable to hold Junior Sodality meetings before class on Thursday mornings. Business meetings are held in room 203. On alternate weeks the members attend 8:00 Mass in the Student Chapel."

"Membership is open to Catholic members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes. The new freshmen are especially invited to attend our meetings and to become permanent members of the foremost spiritual Society of the College."

"A period of probation is now in progress for the old as well as the new members. All who wish to remain in good standing must attend three out of the four meetings during the period extending from January 23 to February 13."

Glee Club

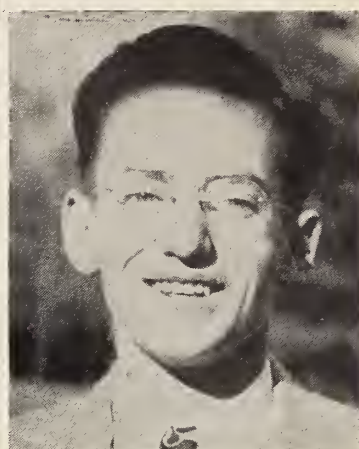

William Wiegand

"New members are cordially invited to the weekly meetings of the Glee Club, held Mondays at 2:20 in room 201."

"Since its reorganization by Father Dougherty last September, the Glee Club and Choir, under the direction of Mr. George Kent Bellows, have made several appearances. Climax of the first term work was the Christmas Carol presentation before the parents of the students, Alumni and friends of the college."

Shea History Academy

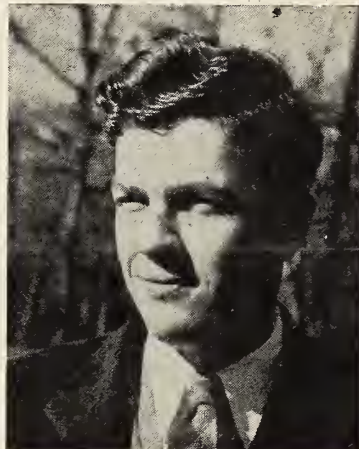

Richard Rebbert

"Activity of the Academy is at present centered on the series of lectures which eight Seniors, who are majoring in History, will present during the second semester."

"The Student Body is invited to attend the first lecture, to be given next Thursday at 2:30."

Long-range project of the Academy is writing a history of Loyola which will be published on the occasion of the centenary in 1952."

Accounting Club

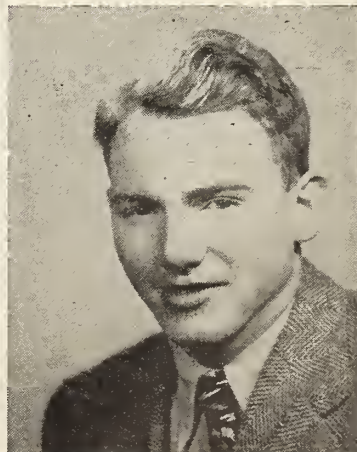

Andrew B. Geckle

"Our meetings are bi-weekly on Tuesdays at 1:40 p.m. At present, the speakers for the meetings are the Seniors who are writing their theses in Accounting."

"It is the custom of the club to discuss all current business problems, both from the accounting aspect and the outlook of general business."

Dramatic Society

Maurice Mackey

"The Mask and Rapier Society has returned to its before-the-war policy of annual major productions. New members, with or without acting, directing, lighting, makeup, or business experience, are invited."

"The Society presented three one-act plays in the Maryland Casualty Auditorium in November. The Society hopes for new members from the Freshman Class."

Senior Annual Seeks Patrons

Student patrons are now being sought for the 1947 Evergreen, the Senior yearbook. The special student price is $1.00. Subscriptions for the yearbook are still being taken at a price of $7.50 per copy. The number of copies printed will depend upon the number of subscriptions placed.

Duplicates of the extra-curricular activity pictures which will be used in the yearbook may be secured at the office in the Science Building for $1.00 each.

Preliminary deadline for copy is February 15. Editor Peter Malloy will work with the advertising staff to raise the necessary funds for the annual. Jerry Crawford and Thomas Lalley will edit the main copy for the yearbook.

Essays On Mirabeau Now Being Judged

The board of judges is at present considering the essays of the three entrants for the Whiteford History Essay Contest. Gus A. Crenson, Thomas L. Lalley and William Pillsbury submitted 3000 word essays on the topic "Mirabeau and the French Revolution."

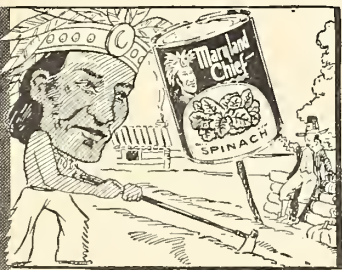

A Gold Medal will be awarded to the winner at the close of the present semester.

The Whiteford Medal was founded by Miss Celinda Whiteford. Topics for the contest are selected annually by the Dean.

Father Dougherty Directs Radio Masses For Shut-Ins

Fr. Dougherty, director of the Mass program, observes the Mass from a soundproof studio and reads it in English for the radio listeners from a leaflet Missal. Photograph by Blakeslee-Lane.

Hundreds of letters of appreciation for his weekly Radio Mass have been received by Rev. Joseph A. Dougherty, S. J., director of the Mass program, since the first broadcast last October 6.

The Mass, broadcast over the facilities of station WFBR, is presented every Sunday morning at 10:30. The services originate from the Chapel at Mercy Hospital. The broadcast is intended mainly for shut-ins, since the obligation of hearing Mass cannot be fulfilled by radio.

Mass Read In English

Fr. Dougherty, Sophomore-Junior Student Counsellor and moderator of the Glee Club at Evergreen, reads the Mass in English from a Leaflet Missal. Copies of the Missal are offered free to listeners.

Nurses who are not on duty and up-patients attend the Mass at the Hospital. The director believes that the broadcast is the first time that a Mass has been broadcast for shut-ins from a hospital.

Celebrants Are Parish Pastors

Pastors of Churches as listed alphabetically in the Archdiocesan Directory celebrate the Mass on succeeding Sundays.

The director first conceived the idea of a Radio Mass last March. Receiving several hundred letters after the Novena of Grace broadcast, Fr. Dougherty sent letters to some of the writers asking their opinions of the proposed Masses. Response was so favorable that he approached Archbishop Curley with tentative plans for the program.

The Archbishop expressed approval and encouragement of the plan, and gave his personal check to defray the costs of the first year of the broadcasts.

Greyhounds Crush Washington, 75-55

Lacy, O'Donnell Lead Team In Amazing Second-Half Rally

by Spence Davidson

The Greyhound basketball team was forced to come from behind to defeat a determined Washington College quintet last Saturday night at Evergreen before a sellout crowd. Trailing the Chestertown aggregation by a 33-30 score at halftime, Loyola rallied strongly and took the contest by a 75-55 margin for their sixth Mason-Dixon victory.

The Green and Gray scored first, with big Tom Gisriel racking up six straight points. Faced by a tight zone defense, the Hounds did most of their shooting from the outside and were amazingly accurate with their set-shots. Washington College, hothered at first by a severe case of stage fright, gradually settled down and began to match Loyola point for point. Led by Frank Samele, they slowly closed a seven point gap until, with three minutes left to play in the first stanza, Samele dropped in a swisher from outside to knot the count at 27-27. The Shoremen took the lead at that point and held a three point margin when the half ended.

Greyhounds Rally

In the second half the Hounds came back strongly, displaying the type of play that has carried them into a second place tie in Conference play. With Feeley, Roche and Gisriel completely dominating the rebound department, the Greyhounds quickly perforated the zone defense that had troubled them in the previous stanza.

Andy O'Donnell, who shared Loyola high scoring honors with Jim Lacy, started the Greyhound recovery by racking up six quick points with the half only minutes old. Jim Lacy, displaying the talent that has carried him to national rating, added a pair of field goals, and the bewildered Shoremen found themselves on the short end of a 63-46 count with ten minutes of play remaining and the outcome already decided.

Reitz Substitutes

Lefty Reitz, mentor of the Hounds, substituted freely throughout the evening, and the quality of the Greyhound reserves proved to be a deciding factor. Bill Bailey and Fred Olinger, the latter fully recovered from an operation earlier in the season, played an outstanding game.

High scorer for the evening was Samele, who gathered seven field goals and five points at the foul line for a nineteen point total. Lacy and O'Donnell with seventeen apiece were top men for Loyola, followed by Tom Gisriel, who garnered ten.

C.U. Beaten In 85-43 Tilt

Displaying superior shooting accuracy, the Greyhounds literally swamped Catholic University on the losers floor by the tremendous score of 85 to 43.

It was the first time this season that the Green and Gray team had run up such a fine record and ironically enough it was the Cardinals' most humiliating defeat.

Lacy Scores 24

Again it was Jim Lacy who captured high scoring honors with eleven field goals and two free throws for a total of 24 points. A few minutes before the end of the contest, Jim received a thunderous ovation from a sell-out house as he left the court.

The first half was rather close as the Catholic University quintet fought to keep the score down, but as the stanza ended the Hounds were out in front by a margin of ten points with the score 33 to 23.

52 Points In Half

However, as the final period was under way, the spectators couldn't believe their eyes. Everytime, from anywhere, when a Loyola man took a shot, he racked up two more points. Loyola ran up 52 points in the last half.

Latest national scoring figures show that Jim Lacy, with 130 field goals and 91 fouls for 351 points, still ranks second in the country wide standing.

Lacy Scores 37 To Set New Mark

Radar had nothing on Jim Lacy the night of January 8.

Hitting his target fifteen times in 20 attempts from the floor, and adding a perfect 7-for-7 mark at the foul line, Lacy threw 37 points through the hoops to pace his mates to an easy 79-54 victory over Mt. St. Mary's College.

In addition to hiking his seasonal total considerably, Jim also set a new individual scoring record for a single Mason-Dixon Conference contest. His new total broke his previous one-man standard of 32 points tallied at the Evergreen gym three years ago.

Sets Torrid Pace

Lacy had five points to his credit within two minutes and accounted for 11 of Loyola's first 13 points. Only once during the entire first half did the big southpaw star miss a shot, and ironically enough it was probably his easiest, a one hander near in on the left side. He left the court at halftime with 20 points, exactly the margin of the Hounds' lead, 38-18.

It looked as if Lacy would have trouble breaking his own mark, for after tossing in twelve points in the second half, Jim missed two straight tries at the cords.

No Serious Threat

Never did the visitors establish a serious threat to Loyola's lead, but constant two-pointers by Clark and George Charniga kept the home team husy.

Hopkins Five Takes Lacing In Wild Game At Evergreen, 75-56

Displaying superior all-round basketball playing, the Greyhounds captured their fifth Mason-Dixon conference game by defeating Johns Hopkins University 75 to 56. The tilt was played at Evergreen before a sellout house a week ago last Wednesday night.

At no time during the full forty minutes did the Blue Jays overcome Loyola's lead, except for the first minute and a half when the score stood 1 apiece. Then the Hounds on beautiful setup plays, racked up four baskets while Hopkins only dropped one counter through the hoop.

Forty Fouls Called

Fouls were prevalent during the contest. Forty personal and 2 technical ones were called by officials Fox and Sparra. Loyola missed 10 free throws out of 27 and Hopkins missed 13 out of 23.

Again it was Loyola's Jim Lacy who came through to take high scoring honors for the evening. Jim accounted for 7 baskets and 8 out of 12 free throws; a total of 22 points. This brought up his total to 334 points for 16 games.

Loyola Seeks Revenge Wins

fensive star on the La Salle and Seton Hall quintets who can shackle Jim Lacy for an entire evening. Evergreen fans are not worrying much about that last "if." Lacy's terrific scoring, both in conference and exhibition games, seems to be insured against any defense either team can throw against him.

In the last Seton Hall game, Lacy shared scoring honors with Frank Saul of the Pirates, with a 13 point total. But in the injury department, Don Galloway may be lost for the season as far as any full-time ball-playing is concerned. Losing him will mean the Greyhounds will have to move along without the services of one of their ace playmakers and rebound experts.

Last Of Big Games

The games tonight with La Salle and Monday night with Seton Hall mark the last of the big-time teams Loyola will meet this season. Scranton comes to Evergreen on Feb. 16, the Greyhounds having defeated them earlier in the season by a score of 52-42.

Holders of season books will be admitted without any increase in prices for these games, the athletic office announced recently. Capacity crowds should fill the Evergreen for both games.

Andy O'Donnell, six foot guard and newcomer to the Greyhounds, is the team's No. 2 scorer.

St. Francis Downs Greyhounds In Cage Tilt In Brooklyn, N. Y.

Loyola College suffered its worst setback of the season, 82 to 51, at the hands of St. Francis of Brooklyn, New York, in the victors mid-get-sized gym. This defeat ended the Hounds three game win streak.

Employing a deadly fast break in which they racked up 12 straight baskets, St. Francis set up a lead which proved to be unconquerable. Baskets by Galvin, Gisriel, Olinger and Lacy, kept the Hounds fighting back. But the red-hot St. Francis team continued to roll and the half ended 48 to 21.

The Hounds came back in the second half determined to close that far gap in the score. O'Donnell, in particular, began to find the range with his long set shots scoring 4 quick baskets. But Lindemann, who was high scorer for the evening with 22 points, Mele, and Feitler kept the St. Francis steamroller moving and stayed in pace with the rejuvenated Hounds.

With most of the first team benched on fouls and Sid Roche seeing limited action due to 4 fouls, the second team carried on the fight. Ferguson made two set shots, Feeley hooked in two one-handers and Barry made a lay-up and 2 out of 3 foul shots. But the Hounds couldn't overcome the lead and fell victims by a 82-51 score.

Dailey will team with Jack Blondell in the 200 yard freestyle, and will combine with Jim Oaster in the 100 yard freestyle. The 400 yard freestyle relay will see Blondell, Oaster, Dailey and Manley Gately in action.

Tomorrow afternoon the tankers will play host to Catholic University at 3:30. The Cardinals, victims by 40-26 earlier in the season, will appear with a fast improving squad.

Hounds Down Scranton; Bow To Albright 66-64

Loyola came within three points of sweeping a two-game holiday road trip through Pennsylvania, as the Hounds dropped a hectic overtime game to Albright College, 66-64, after defeating Scranton University, 52-42. Jim Lacy was high man on the tour, scoring 45 points. Sid Roche turned in a pair of fine contests and scored 23 markers.

Scranton

"Laced by Lacy" was the caption written in a Scranton paper after Loyola won its first away game from the Tommies by a 52-42 margin at Scranton, Pa.

Scoring 27 points, just over half the entire team's output, Lacy gave one of the finest performances witnessed at the home team's court as he helped the Hounds fracture a road jinx that had reached five games.

Gym Packed

Some 3,500 partisan spectators watched Loyola's one-man point-making machine throw in nine field goals and nine out of eleven foul attempts, and when he left the game late in the fourth quarter, they filled the gym with ear-piercing applause.

A see-saw first quarter was converted into a safe Loyola lead as Lacy sank three quick baskets for a 34-27 intermission advantage. The Hounds then held the Tommies to 15 points in the final half, and coasted to the ten-point win.

Olinger, Roche Next

Freddy Olinger and Sid Roche were one-two next to Lacy in the scoring parade, Olinger caging three field goals for six points and Roche scoring five markers.

In overall competition (excluding the Alumni game) it was Loyola's fourth victory. Scranton visits the Evergreen court for a return match on February 16.

Greyhound Grapplers Battle Washington College Tomorrow

The Loyola wrestling team will make their third home appearance tomorrow afternoon when they entertain the grapplers from Washington College in one-half of a swimming-wrestling doubleheader at Evergreen.

The Greyhound matmen, composed mostly of men with no previous wrestling experience, are still seeking their first victory of the season. This will be the initial postwar engagement for Washington College and they are an unknown quantity in Maryland wrestling circles this year.

Co-Captains Have Experience

Only men on the Green and Grey team with high school experience behind them are the co-captains of the team, Phil Lohrey and Mus Bower.

Albright

Trailing by 45-39 with seven minutes remaining, Loyola fought determinedly and tied Albright College, 56-56, at the regulation time limit, only to bow out by a heartbreaking 66-64 count after a hectic overtime session in a wild contest staged at Reading, Pa., before 2,500 fans.

Albright, although outscored—22 to 22—from the floor, capitalized on an uncanny foul shooting performance to gain the win. The home team made 22 foul shots against Loyola's 12 to annex its second victory in four outings.

Lacy Off

Jim Lacy had a poor first half in which he scored only two points and Sid Roche and Fred Olinger played stellar ball and drove the Hounds into a 26-25 lead at the half.

Lacy and Roche then took command of the scoring in the second half, but Russ Guensch, Albright scoring sensation, kept apace, and finally pulled into a seven point advantage shortly after the fourth quarter opened.

It was at this juncture that Left Reitz's charges put on their last ditch attempt to catch the home team, and did just as the regulation limit ended.

Guensch High Man

Guensch led Albright during the extra period, while Lacy threw in a pair of field goals to lead the visitors. Guensch was high man for the evening with 23 points, five more than Lacy and Roche.

Running With The Hounds

by Tim Parr

With the 1946-47 Mason-Dixon basketball race at the halfway mark, and various teams upsetting the favorites throughout the weeks, it appears as if the conference tournament to be played at Catholic University on March 6th, 7th and 8th will be the most hotly contested since its organization.

The Greyhounds have played eighteen games to date, and the big gun in the Hounds defense in every one of these contests is the conference highest scorer and number two man in the nation, Loyola's candidate for All American basketball honors, Jim Lacy. The rangy, olive-kinned, black-haired forward has displayed unsurpassed marksmanship and skill in his outside shots and layups from either side of the basket. His control of the ball and cool head in the pinch has not been equaled by any opponent.

* * * * *

Early this month, between the halves of the Rhode Island-St. Johns game in Madison Square Garden, coach Frank Xeaney of Rhode Island was asked to mention a few of the best players he had seen this year. He said "Jim Lacy of Loyola College of Baltimore is the best basketball player I have seen around Rhode Island in ten years."

In the past 18 games, Jim's biggest night was against Mt. St. Mary's here at Evergreen. He riddled the cords for 15 field goals and sank 7 out of 7 foul shots for a total of 37 points, to break his own and set a new gym and conference scoring record. Other big nights were against Scranton University, where he thrilled a capacity crowd of 3500 spectators in the Scranton Armory with his shooting wizardry in scoring 27 points; against Catholic University he tallied 24 points, racked up 30 points against Rider in Trenton, and 22 and 17 respectively against Hopkins and Washington C.

Tonight and Monday night, the Green and Gray five meet, for the second time, two of the top teams in the East. This evening they entertain La Salle of Philadelphia, and Monday night they take on the undefeated eighteen game winner Seton Hall from South Orange, New Jersey. This is the only appearance this season of the number two team in the East in the monumental city.

* * * * *

In spite of the fact that Jim Lacy, freshman forward, is the top scorer on the team, notice should be paid to the other Greyhound hardwood pounders. Don Galloway, 6 foot 3 inch freshman center, an outstanding rebound man, and a dead eye with the Stanford shot is lost to the Hounds for the remainder of the season, due to a recurrence of shin splints. Gene O'Connor capable guard, and co-captain of the 1946-47 squad is also out for the season due to a foot injury received in the Hopkins game. Tom Gisriel, veteran of the 1943-44 squad, who seems to have trouble with the local referees and fouls, has recorded several fine shots. A promising freshman, now holding down a first string guard post, Andy O'Donnell, possesses a sharp pass and an accurate shot from outside the foul circles. Wish Galvin, a junior at Evergreen, has earned himself a berth on the starting five by his fine floorwork and accurate set shots. Paul Feeley, who is doing a fine job on rebounds, has two more years with the Hounds. Playing his usual steady game, is Loyola's Doc Blanchard, Sid Roche. Occasionally Sid thrills the crowd with his right hand over the shoulder shot. Ed McGarry, Buck Ward, Fred Olinger and Bill Ferguson have been capable reserves, as have Jim Bailey, Bill Johnson and Bob Barry.

* * * * *

Loyola's tankmen are turning in a fine record in league competition this season, and from the results of past weeks, the Evergreen natators will be strong contenders for the conference crown. Led by Bruz Dailey, Jim Oaster, Leon Greenbaum, Clint Bamberger, Jack Blondell, and Jack Dunn, the Green and Gray swimmers will be a thorn in the side of the championship La Salle Explorers whom they meet here today.

This is the last issue for your Sports Editor, and as a parting thought, I want to ask you to keep those Hounds Running, right into a Mason-Dixon championship in basketball and swimming for the 1946-47 season.

B Squad Defeats Hopkins Frosh; Wintz Scores 19

Coach Ned Stevenson's hard-working B squad basketball brigade won a well earned 49-43 decision from the Hopkins freshmen team as a preliminary test to the Loyola-Hopkins varsity game last Wednesday.

With Jack Wintz and Ed Hughes setting the scoring pace, the junior Hounds rushed to an early lead, only to have the visitors put on a determined bid for victory before succumbing.

Wintz Scores 19

Wintz hit the team's individual high output for a single game with a 19 point contribution, while Hughes played a fine defensive game and chipped in with ten important markers.

Other noteworthy performances were turned in by Reds Davis and Johnny Whalen on rebound play, and Frank Scrivener on general team work and floor directions.

Patterson, Maish Win

Patterson Park High and the Maish Athletic Club registered victories over the Evergreen understudies by scores of 64-41 and 53-32, respectively. The latter contest was a prelim engagement prior to the varsity Washington College fracas last Saturday.

In the Patterson game, Loyola held a commanding 7-0 lead after four minutes of play, but the smooth Pat quint retaliated sharply and grabbed a commanding lead at halftime. With the score at 16 apiece, the Clippers' Mel Baldwin swished three straight field goals to pull his team from danger into a comfortable lead. Baldwin led the winners with 18 points.

Never Close

The Maish contest was never close as the amateur club, composed mostly of ex-City College players, outpointed the home forces from the outset.

Hound Courtmen Defeat Rider, 68-58, At Trenton

by Mickey Parr

Racking up a 68-58 triumph over Rider College on January 17, Loyola's basketball team extended its win streak to 3 in a row in a rough, closely-contested match at Trenton, N. J.

Jim Lacy checked in with another big night to carry the offensive burden on 30 points. 12 field goals and a 6 for 6 record on foul shots provided these totals.

Olinger Sparks Team

However, Fred Olinger, who tallied 13 markers for the Green and Gray cause, proved a valuable sparkplug during the second half with his all-around floor play and timely scoring. Dick Korngut and John Cottrill, with 15 points each, and Sanfy Leichtling, with 12, led the attack of the host quint.

In a nip and tuck first half, during which 29 fouls were called, the lead changed hands five times until, just before the closing whistle, the Greyhounds were trailing by a single point. Lacy then popped in a field goal and a foul shot that enabled the visitors to take their half-time rest with a 31-29 score.

Greyhounds On Top

Rider returned to the floor with renewed vigor, and piled up a 6-point advantage. Midway of the period Sid Roche split the cords for Loyola, putting the Greyhounds on top of a 47-46 score. From here on, the Green and Gray steadily increased its lead, while holding the opposition in reasonable check.

Loyola Tankmen Sink Rider, Catholic U., Gallaudet; Dailey, Oaster, And Greenbaum Top Point Makers

Paced by the versatile and stocky Bruz Dailey, Greyhound freestyle artist, the Loyola tankmen inaugurated the 1947 season by defeating Rider College of Trenton, N. J., 49-26, in the Evergreen pool. The Hounds swept six of the nine events. Dailey won the 220 and 100 yard freestyle in 2.40.8 and 1.02 respectively. The 50 yard dash was won by Oaster in 28 seconds, and the 150 yard backstroke by Greenbaum in 1.56.8. Dunn of the host team took the 440 freestyle in 3.00. Muir of Rider copped the 300 yard medley relay and the 200 yard breast stroke.

Adding Catholic University to its conquered list, Loyola College's Swimming Team chalked up its second straight triumph with a score of 40 to 26, as the Greyhounds snared five first places of the eight events at the Catholic University's pool. Bruz Dailey, who competed in the 1944 Junior Nationals at Washington, remained undefeated in the present season as he captured the 220 and 100 yard free style contest at speeds of 2 minutes 47 4-10 seconds and 1 minute 7-10 seconds respectively. Also, together with Gateley, Blondell and Oaster, Dailey contributed his talents to help win the 440 yard free style, which was clocked at 4 minutes 11 3-10 seconds.

Loyola's breaststroke and backstroke aces, Gehring and Clint Bamberger crossed the finish line ahead of their opponents; Clint won his breaststroke of 200 yards in 3 minutes 3 seconds, while Gehring completed in 1 minute 28 seconds flat.

Jack Blondell, former tank star at Loyola High School, earned a strong second place in the 220 yard free style, as Gateley accomplished the same honors in the 40 yard free style. Diving, relay and dash man Jack Dunn, showed impressive speed in the long 440 yard free style to outpace his team mate, Locke, for runner-up position.

In three events, the 330 yard medley relay, 40 yard free style and the 440 yard free style, Catholic University proved to be too strong for the visiting Greyhound natators.

Sweeping all nine events, the Greyhound natators won their third straight victory by defeating Gallaudet 63-12. Oaster captured the 50 and 100 yard free styles, while Dailey annexed the 220 and 440 free style events. Diving was won by Dunn of Loyola with 31.8 points. Other winners for Loyola were Greenbaum in the 300 yard medley and the 150 backstroke. The 200 yard breaststroke was won by Bamberger of Loyola.

REUNION OF CLASS OF JANUARY 1943

Tonight the Class of January 1943 is holding its Third Annual Reunion at Evergreen. Under the Chairmanship of Class Captain Joseph B. Smith, plans have been made for the class to attend the Loyola-La Salle Basketball Game in a body. After the game the class will gather in the Recreation Room of the Alumni Gymnasium for a pleasant evening.

Working with Class Captain Smith in preparing the Reunion are George J. Miller, Jr., Owen A. Hennegan and Edmund J. McGraw.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cichelli announce the birth of their daughter Mary Susan on November 11, 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Cichelli have three other children, John E., James A. and Margaret Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer X. Lambdin announce the birth of a son, Joseph Jerome X., born December 2, 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Dill are the proud parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, born December 11, 1946.

ALUMNI BILLS

Bills for dues and subscription to THE GREYHOUND have been mailed to all members for 1947. The letter from Rene J. Gunning, Chairman of the Membership Committee, accompanying the bill, explained the need for an increase in dues-paying members to meet the cost of expanding Alumni activity and to make possible the proposed events to which members are to be invited as guests of the Association. The same holds true for THE GREYHOUND. Your subscription will make possible the continued publication of THE GREYHOUND and the continuing service which this organ of Loyola activity has provided for the Association in the past.

The entire membership including Alumni who are still in the Armed Forces have received bills for dues this month. The enclosed slip explained the reason for this general billing. Members of the Armed Forces are not asked to pay dues. However we are not always informed of the separation of members from the services. Hence we ask this favor. If you are still in active service with the Armed Forces of the United States, please disregard the bill—but please write and advise us of your branch, rank and station so that we may keep our records up to date.

Three Science Majors Form Smallest Graduating Class

Perhaps the smallest class in the history of Evergreen was graduated on January 17 when F. Timothy Parr, Charles H. McBeth, and Dominic E. Pfeiffer, all Chemistry majors, received their B. S. I. degrees.

In a hotly contested class election, Parr was elected President of the class, McBeth became Vice-President, and Pfeiffer was voted Valedictorian.

"Despite the small size of our class," said President Parr, "our senior activities have not been hampered. The Senior Ball consisted of one dance dedicated to the graduates at the recent Sophomore Class dance. The Senior Banquet was held in the basement of the Peabody Bookshop. This location was chosen because of the literary leanings of all the graduates. Mr. Pfeiffer delivered his Valedictory in the phone booth in the basement of the Science Building."

When interviewed, Mr. Pfeiffer declared that he had been trying to get through college since his graduation from Loyola High School in 1940. "This, however, is not to be credited against my scholarship, but rather to the Army Air Forces, whose ill-timed interruption of my college career occupied 3½ years of this time," he declared. He piloted a B-25 in the Pacific theatre.

McBeth and Parr graduated from Mt. St. Joseph's in 1941 and 1942 respectively. Both served as Ensigns in the Navy in the Pacific.

The graduates were well represented in Extra-curriculars during their Evergreen careers:

Parr: Sodality, 1; Math Club, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2; President of Athletic Association and Block L Club, 3; Block L, 1, 2, 3, 4; Greyhound, 2, 3, 4; Sports Editor, 4; Athletic Publicity Director, 3; Class President, 4; Baseball, 1, 2; B Squad Basketball, 3.

McBeth: Chemistry Club, 1, 2, 4; Math Club, 1, 2; French Club, 1; Greyhound, 2; Intramurals, 1, 2; Social Science Club, 4; Class President, 2; Vice-President, 4.

Pfeiffer: Chemistry Club, 1, 4; Mendel Club, 1, 2; Sodality, 1, 2; Cross Country, 1; Glee Club, 1; Social Science Club, 4; Intramurals, 1.

NCC Delegates Meet At Hopkins

Continuing the work begun at the University of Chicago by a national conference of students from colleges and universities, delegates from Maryland and District of Columbia colleges met on January 11 at Johns Hopkins. Under the direction of Emmet Hurley, Georgetown University temporary chairman, the delegates elected an executive board and made preliminary efforts to raise funds and begin research on student problems.

At Chicago, the National Student Union, NSU, was not formed but National Continuations Committee, NCC, was established. The NSU will be inaugurated sometime in April.

Regions Formed

This NCC asked that the colleges of the United States divide into regional groups. One of these groups comprises Maryland, Washington, D. C., and Delaware.

These regions were to raise funds based upon a contribution of 5¢ per student, some of which would be sent to Chicago for the NCC and the rest kept in the region.

Officers Elected

Henry Bobrow of Hopkins was elected vice-chairman for Baltimore. Jayne Maynes of Notre Dame was voted treasurer, Lela Hawkins, from Howard, secretary, and William Ellis, from Princess Anne, temporary vice-chairman for Delaware.

Mark Dugan attended the first Chicago meeting for Loyola.
